WHY DEVRY SMITH FRANK LLP?

We are experienced

A properly planned Will is extremely important – it can ensure that you are able to clearly communicate your wishes and structure your affairs during your lifetime and after death in accordance with your wishes. This avoids confusion or misunderstanding among family members and friends after your death as to your intentions. A Will only takes effect upon your death, therefore, it is equally important that you have valid Powers of Attorney for Property and Personal Care in place so that you can authorize persons to make decisions on your behalf and assist you in dealing with your property and your healthcare if you are unable to provide instruction or make decisions. Your Attorney must act in your best interest and in accordance with the law. The lawyers in our Wills & Estates Group have extensive experience advising clients in the complete range of legal services related to estate planning, estate administration, and estate litigation. As part of a full-service firm, we work with our Business, Tax, Real Estate, Not-For-Profit & Charities, and Family law groups to ensure that our clients' legal and family interests are protected and their goals achieved.

We have a mid-market focus

Everyone needs a solid succession plan in place – individuals and businesses. We have particular expertise and experience representing entrepreneurs, owner-managers, mid-market businesses and their shareholders. We provide creative, tax-efficient and cost-effective solutions to assist family business owners with their succession planning. We work closely with the client's existing advisors, whether accountants, financial advisors, in-house legal counsel, tax and accounting departments, to develop and implement the appropriate strategy. If and when your situation changes, we will adjust your succession plan accordingly.

We are lean

As a mid-sized law firm, Devry Smith Frank LLP balances professional, knowledgeable and customized legal solutions with a focus on delivering value. We are large enough to handle the most complex Estates matters, but have an overhead structure and the flexibility to be cost effective. We are driven to deliver value to our clients in all that we do. Wills and Powers of Attorney are the cornerstone of your estate plan and should be signed only after careful consideration and legal advice.
